Dear Friend,

With the holiday season practically here and many of us preparing to get together with our loved ones, I wanted to share a story of a family sticking together through tumultuous times.

Michael and his mom, Kimberly, were living in Michael’s car along with their Chihuahua, Honey. During what Michael refers to as the “lowest point in his decision making,” he wound up serving a brief jail sentence, leaving his mom on her own with the dog. By the time he was released, their car had broken down and they had no money to get it fixed.

With great foresight, Kimberly had parked the car near a Salvation Army facility, where they were able to get some daily resources and food. There they also made contact with Friends In Deed. They remained in their car throughout the hot weather, living on food stamps, buying buckets of ice daily, and praying the end of the summer heat wouldn’t kill their beloved pet.

Fortunately, Najwa, a Friends In Deed housing navigator, became involved. Najwa worked for months to get Michael and Kimberly the particular housing they needed, somewhere that had open beds for both a male and a female, and a place that accepted dogs as well. Staying together as a family was very important to them from the beginning. Michael also spoke about keeping hope alive through all the “zig-zagging” process of escaping homelessness.
Well, we’re happy to report that Michael and Kimberly have now moved into their new home and are thrilled and relieved to be living in much greater comfort and safety, with three meals a day and even a dog park for Honey!

The resilience we see when people come together never ceases to amaze us. The same thing can be said of the collective effort of our supporters who have been stepping forward to keep our Food Pantry stocked ahead of the holidays. Thank you to all who are holding food drives on our behalf, have ordered us non-perishable items, or have stopped by with donations the past couple weeks!

With Thanksgiving happening next week, our annual Operation Gobbler event, hosted by the Pasadena Jaycees, is taking place this Sunday. We are still accepting turkeys tomorrow between 9am and 3pm if you’d like to stop by to donate. As always, you can also donate on our website to enable all of our work as we gear up for our busiest season of the year. We appreciate your support!

Finally, we hope you were able to join us for our 2nd Annual State of FID Address this past Tuesday evening. If you missed it and would like to hear updates from Executive Director Rabbi Joshua Levine Grater, you can watch/listen to the recording here.

Have a beautiful weekend,

Merria Velasco
